The "Go Go White Sox" finally derailed the Yankees from a stranglehold on the American League pennant. The "Pale Hose" featured future Hall of Famer's Luis Aparicio, Early Wynn, Jimmy Fox, Larry Doby, and Manager Al Lopez...

Catcher Sherm Lollar led the ball club with 22 home runs and 84 runs batted in. He was also held in high regard as one of the best backstops in the majors. Outfielder Al Smith hit 17 homers and drove home 55 runs while Nellie Fox (a pro among pro's) was first on the ball club in hits (191) and second with 70 RBI. One of the top shortstops in the game called Comiskey Park "home" as well: Luis Aparicio scored 98 runs and led the majors in stolen bases...Early Wynn led the pitching staff with a 22-10 record and 179 strikeouts. Bob Shaw was 18-6 for the year while talented lefty Billy Pierce was 14-15 with 114 K's...The staff was first in the league with a 3.29 ERA and gave up the fewest runs (588)...At the plate, the Sox hit .250 and 97 homers. They led the A.L. with 46 triples...The White Sox made their first appearance in the Fall Classic since 1919 and ran into a tough ball club in the L. A. Dodgers. Los Angeles won The Series, 4-2, even after they were blown out in Game One by the White Sox at Comiskey Park, 11-0. The Dodgers then won the next three games to get an upper hand...The nickname "Go Go White Sox" was derived from a fight song (still used to this day) written for the team in 1959...Chicago beat the Yanks in their season series, 13-9-1...Early Wynn was the recipient of baseball's Cy Young Award. (At this time, there was only one award for the major leagues.)
