The Giants swept the 111-win Cleveland Indians, four games to none, in the World Series...In the eighth inning of Game One at the Polo Grounds, Willie Mays made "The Catch," an over-the-shoulder running reception of a long drive by The Tribe's Vic Wertz to deep, deep centerfield. Mays's out-of-this-world play preserved a tie score in the game the Giants eventually won in extra innings. It would be the LAST World Championship the Giants from John McGraw to Christy Mathewson, from Bill Terry to Bobby Thomson would win in Gotham...Mays went on win the N.L. batting championship and was named the league's MVP. At twenty-three, Mays hit .345 for the year with 33 doubles, 13 triples, 41 home runs, 110 RBI and 119 runs scored. Second baseman Hank Thompson was next with 26 homers and 86 runs batted in. His keystone partner, Al Dark, hit 20 taters; rightfielder Don Mueller led the ball club with 212 hits. Future Hall of Famer Monte Irvin hit 19 home runs and drove in sixty-four. As a team, the Giants hit .264 and led the N.L. with 186 homers...Lefthander Johnny Antonelli topped the pitching staff with a 21-7 W/L record, 152 strikeouts, 18 complete games, and six shutouts. Ruben Gomez was 17-9 while Sal Maglie ended the year with a 14-6 record. Reliever Hoyt Wilhelm and his knuckleball were 12-4 out of the pen. The staff led the league with a 3.10 ERA and 17 shutouts...The ball club that played below what was once "Coogan's Bluff" nudged the Dodgers by five games for the National League pennant. Durocher, a former Brooklyn skipper, led his Giants to a 13-9 season series victory over the Dodgers.
