The make-over of the most prolific franchise in sports history continues: During the winter of '66-'67, both Clete Boyer and Roger Maris were traded away to Atlanta and St. Louis, respectively. On August 3, 1967, Elston Howard was traded to the Red Sox for two minor leaguers. "Ellie" would finish his career in '68 wearing Boston livery...Mickey Mantle hit his 500th career home run, May 14th, at Yankee Stadium off the Orioles Stu Miller, a shot to the short-porch in rightfield in the seventh with no one on base and two out. The Yanks won the game, 6-5, before just under 19,000 fans...New York ended the season 20 games in back of the American League champion Red Sox. The Yankees won only TWO season series versus the last place Athletics (11-7) and Senators (12-6)...As a team, the Yanks hit .225 and 100 home runs, both figures placing them eighth in the league. Mantle, who played in 144 games, clobbered the most homers (22) and drove home 55 runs. Joe Pepitone (13 HR) was the leader in RBI (64). Horace Clarke's 164 base hits and 74 runs scored were team highs. Tom Tresh added 14 jacks...Mel Stottlemyre, Sr. (151 K's) posted the most wins on the pitching staff (15). Al Downing won 14 times and rang up the most strikeouts (171). Both hurlers completed ten games. The staff ERA finished at 3.24, fourth in the A. L...Future Hall of Famer "Whitey" Ford concluded his career with a 236-106 record (.690) and lifetime ERA of 2.75. He won ten post-season games.
