Evan Longoria, one of the few Rays left from their championship years under departed skipper Joe Maddon, led the ball club with 21 homers, 73 runs batted in, 163 base hits, 74 runs scored, and 35 doubles. Second sacker Logan Forsythe followed with 17 home runs and 68 RBI. Steven Souza, Jr. clubbed 16 dingers. Forsythe's keystone mate, Asdrubal Cabrera, hit fifteen. Outstanding young outfielder Kevin Kiermaier posted a "triple double" with 25 doubles, 12 triples, and ten homers. He also received his first Gold Glove Award. The Rays hit .252 and 167 homers for the year....Another holdover from the previous great Rays teams, Number One starter Chris Archer, topped the pitching staff with twelve wins and 252 K's. Erasmo Ramirez won eleven games while the talented young arm of Jake Odorizzi won nine and struck out 150 batters. Closer Brad Boxberger led the A.L. with forty-one saves. He whiffed seventy-four. The staff was fourth in the league with a 3.74 ERA and first in saves with sixty...Kevin Cash's first year as manager found his team finish 13 games in back of division champ Toronto. The Rays WON the season series, 10-9. RAYS UP!!
