"A season to forget" for the Twins--their 56th in the Twin Cities. They finished a dismal 35 ½ games behind AL Central Champ, Cleveland, 19 full games behind the fourth place White Sox. This includes a 29-52 road record. The Twins DID WIN three season series: versus the Angels, Mariners, and five games to two over Texas...Brian Dozier contributed 42 homers, 99 RBI, 165 base hits, 104 runs scored and 35 doubles to lead the offense. Miguel Sano was next with 25 home runs and 66 RBI...The pitching staff turned in the American League's WORST ERA at 5.08. The staff's top winner was Tyler Duffey with nine wins; Ervin Santana (7-11 W/L record) was tops with 149 strikeouts...The Twins woes were amplified with a league worst .979 fielding percentage...They hit .251 and 200 home runs while leading the A.L. with 35 triples...Minnesota scored 722 runs for the year and allowed 889--the latter the most in the league.
