When the calendar reached August 3rd, the year looked very promising for Colorado with their 54-53 record. However, the remainder of the month and all of September was a disaster--a major league WORST 21-34 mark. The Rockies finished 16 games behind NL West champ Los Angeles and missed the playoffs for the seventh consecutive season...Gold Glove third-sacker Nolan Arenado led the ball club with 41 homers, 133 RBI, and 116 runs scored. Carlos Gonzalez (25 home runs) drove in one-hundred and topped the Rockies in doubles (42). Centerfielder Charlie Blackmon clubbed 29 homers, knocked in eighty-two, and scored 111 times. DJ LeMahieu had the team high in base hits (192). He scored 104 runs. The Rockies led the N.L. with a .275 batting average and 845 runs scored. They hit 204 home runs...Chad Bettis led the pitching staff in wins with fourteen. Jon Gray (10-10 W/L record) struck out 185 to lead the hurlers. Tyler Chatwood won twelve games. The staff posted a 4.91 ERA...Early Rookie of the Year candidate Trevor Story hit ten homers in April--27 for the season--before being forced to bow out for the year, August 2nd, with a torn thumb ligament which required surgery.
