Sluggo Aramis Ramirez once again proved he's one of the premier third basemen in the N. L. by leading the Cubbies in home runs (38), RBI (119), runs scored (93), and doubles (38). Free agent signee Jacque Jones followed with 27 dingers; Juan Pierre was tops with 204 base hits. Pierre led the majors in at bats (699); tied for second in stolen bases; and tied for third in triples (13). The team hit .268 and blasted 166 homers for the year...The pitching staff's ERA (4.74) placed them near the bottom of the league. All Star Carlos Zambrano, who received the fifth most ballots for the N. L. Cy Young Award, led the ball club with 16 wins and 210 strikeouts. He allowed 115 walks, the most in MLB. Before his trade to the Dodgers, July 31st, Greg Maddux won nine games during his second career stint with the Cubs.
