Raul Ibanez and Richie Sexson were the big boppers on the ball club as the team leaders: Thirty-three home runs and 123 runs batted in for Ibanez and thirty-four homers, 107 RBI for Sexson. Third sacker Adrian Beltre added 25 dingers and 89 RBI. Japanese newcomer Kenji Johjima popped 18 home runs and drove in seventy-six to go with Gold Glove-type catching ability. Ichiro Suzuki led the major leagues by racking up 224 hits; he led the M's in runs scored with one-hundred ten and played in his sixth All Star game...Twenty-year-old Felix Hernandez led the pitching staff with twelve wins and 176 K's. Gil Meche was an eleven-game winner and struck out 156 batters. Closer J. J. Putz whiffed 104 batters for the season...The Mariners hit .272 and 172 homers along with a league leading 42 triples...The staff ERA was 4.60...The M's longest winning streak turned out to be five games; the longest losing skid was eleven games...Seattle finished LAST in the A.L. West for the third straight year fifteen games behind division champ Oakland. The Mariners WON only TWO of nineteen games against the A's.
