Bob Melvin managed an A's ball club GM Billy Beane put together that was very good all season long and won its second straight AL West Division title. The post-season is always considered a whole new campaign unto itself. So it was with this ball club: Oakland was knocked from the playoffs by the Tigers in the ALDS, three games to two...As a team, the A's hit .254 for the year and finished third in the A.L. with 186 home runs. Lefthanded hitting Brandon Moss was the leader with thirty of them. He also knocked in 87 runs. Cuban defector Yoenis Cespedes slugged 26 homers with 80 runs batted in and Josh Donaldson added 24 dingers while leading the team with 93 RBI. Even "Coco" Crisp, not known for power-hitting prowess, chipped in with 22 homers and led the A's by scoring 93 runs...Forty-year old Bartolo Colon led the pitching staff with an 18-6 W/L record, three complete games, and three shutouts. Another big righthander, A. J. Griffin, was 14-10 and the staff leader in strikeouts (171). Jarrod Parker and lefty Tommy Milone both won twelve games. Dan Straily won ten contests. Closer Grant Balfour preserved a bushel of wins for the A's by collecting 72 K's and finishing 55 games. Oakland was second in the A.L. with a 3.56 staff ERA and allowed the fewest bases on balls (428).
