Manager Mike Hargrove suddenly resigned, July 1st, stating he no longer had the passion or commitment to give to his players and the Mariners organization. "Grover" had guided the team to a 45-33 record prior to stepping down--including a 25-12 record from May 22nd to July 1st. Hargrove had managed Seattle for two-and-a-half seasons before quitting. Bench coach John McLaren was immediately assigned to the manager's office and led the team to a 43-41 record...Ichiro Suzuki was the All Star Game MVP after going three for three with the first inside-the-park home run (a two-run homer) in the Game's history. Ichiro finished second in the majors in batting average and completed his fourth season with at least 200 base hits. He led the ball club with 238 base knocks, 111 runs and added 68 RBI to the M's offense. Adrian Beltre was the team leader with 26 homers. Raul Ibanez knocked home 105 runs to lead the team. Beltre also drove in ninety-nine. Jose Guillen had a 23-home run season while Ibanez and Richie Sexton both slugged 21 taters. Catcher Kenji Johjima connected for 14 round-trippers. The M's hit .287 (second in the A.L.) and 153 homers...Miguel Batista (133 K's) was the pitching staff's top winner with 16 victories while Felix Hernandez went 14-7 and led the staff with 165 strikeouts. Jarrod Washburn won ten contests. Closer J.J. Putz was an All Star and whiffed 82 batters for the season. He allowed only 37 hits and 13 walks...The Mariners finished just six games behind the AL West Division champion Angels. Seattle won six of the nineteen games between the two.
