Miguel Cabrera was the first major league player in 45 years to win the Triple Crown for his remarkable year at the plate: .330 batting average, 44 home runs, and 139 runs batted in. Not surprisingly, he was named the American League's Most Valuable Player...After defeating the Oakland A's three games to two in the ALDS, and sweeping the Yankees in the ALCS, the Tigers were handily beaten in the World Series, 4-0, by the San Francisco Giants--the final game a 4-3 ten-inning loss at Comerica Park...Justin Verlander led the pitching staff with 17 wins and 239 strikeouts; right behind him was Max Scherzer with 16 victories and 231 K's. The pair finished first and second, respectively, in the A. L. in strikeouts. Doug Fister (10-10) struck out nine straight Royals in Detroit, September 27th, to set a new league record...Free agent signee Prince Fielder was second on the ball club with 30 homers and 108 RBI...As a team, the Tigers hit .268 and popped 163 home runs. The staff ERA was 3.75 with 1,318 strikeouts--the latter second most in the league...Verlander finished behind the Rays' David Price for the A.L. Cy Young Award...Slugger Victor Martinez missed the entire year after tearing up a knee during Spring Training...The Tigers outdistanced the White Sox by three games in the AL Central, thanks largely to winning the season meetings with Chicago, twelve games to six.
