The Astros plunged to last place with a 3-8 record April 23rd and moved between that position and ninth place for the rest of the year. After Game 81, July 7th, the ball club was in last with a 31-50 mark and 18 games out of first place. They were 6-12 versus the N. L. Champion Cardinals in their season series...Powerful centerfielder Jimmy Wynn led the Astros in three categories: Home runs (37), RBI (107), and runs scored (102). Outfielder "Rusty" Staub, 23, rang up the most base hits (182) and led the majors with 44 doubles. His batting average was fifth best in the big leagues. Houston hit 93 homers and .249 for the season...The pitching staff posted the WORST ERA in the N. L. (4.03) but boasted a sixteen-game winner in lefty Mike Cuellar who also topped the hurlers with 203 strikeouts and sixteen complete games. Dave Giusti won eleven ball games and completed eight while twenty-two-year-old flame-thrower Don Wilson was a winning pitcher ten times including seven complete games.
