Former Houston Astros pilot AJ Hinch was named manager of the Tigers, October 30th, 2020, following the early retirement of his predecessor, Ron Gardenhire, earlier in September for health reasons...The Tigers never really contended for a post-season berth; the last time they were at .500 for the season was April 14th (6-6)...Thirty-eight-year-old Miguel Cabrera provided the year's most memorable moments: He homered in his first at bat of the season to become the second player of the Detroit franchise to reach 350 home runs and 2,000 hits in a Tiger uniform. He joined "Mr. Tiger", Al Kaline, for the honors. On August 22nd, "Miggy" poked his 500th career home run off the Blue Jays Steven Matz. Cabrera is the 28th player in major league history to attain that mark. "Miggy" hit 15 homers and drove home 75 in 2021, splitting time as a designated hitter and first baseman...The Tigers' offense was led by Robbie Grossman's 23 jacks. Jonathan Schoop cracked 22 home runs and led the team with 84 RBI. Eric Haase (pronounced HOSS) added 22 home runs in just 351 at bats...Tarik Skubal racked up the most wins (8) and strikeouts (164) to stand atop the mound staff. Casey Mize, 24, won 7 ballgames and punched out 118 batters...Spencer Turnbull no-hit the Mariners at Seattle on May 18th. In a ballgame the Tigers won, 5-0, Turnbull struck out nine M's and walked two for immortality...Jeimer Candelario tied three others for the most doubles in the big leagues (42).
