The M's hovered around .500, or just above, for most of the season but never too far away from the leaders of the AL West. An 18-8 month of September brought them within 3 ½ games of first place and in the hunt for one of two Wild Card spots. A loss to the Angels, coupled with wins by both Boston and New York on the last day of the season, eliminated the Mariners from post-season play for the 20th consecutive year...The M's finished last in the league in hitting (.226) and eighth in home runs (199). Team Leaders: Mitch Haniger (39 HR, 100 RBI); Kyle Seager (35 HR, 101 RBI); Chris Flexen (14 wins); Yusei Kikuchi (163 K's). Paul Sewald whiffed 104 opposing hitters.
