Padres Essentials: Let's start with name pronunciation. Rookie Doug "Eyechart" Gwosdz's last name is pronounced "Goosh". He was a second round pick by San Diego in the 1978 Amateur Draft from Madison HS in Houston, Texas. Outfielder Joe Lefebvre's last name is pronounced "luh-FAY"...Gentle giant Frank Howard left the Brewer's coaching staff to replace broadcaster-turned-manager Jerry Coleman for the season. Coleman's ill-fated last place finish in 1980 led to his return to the microphone. Howard fared no better, lasting just one season with his ballclub finishing at the bottom of the NL West in both halves of the strike-shortened campaign (23-33 and 18-36)...The Padres ended the year seventh in the N. L. with a team BA of .256. They hit more triples than home runs—35 to 32. Their 170 doubles placed them second in the league. The previously mentioned Lefebvre led the team with eight homers. The mercurial Gene Richards, whose 12 triples tied the Astros Craig Reynolds for the most in the big leagues, collected the most RBI (42). Ozzie Smith answered the call for every game and was awarded his second Gold Glove as his legend grows...Juan Eichelberger topped the pitching staff with eight wins. The staff finished the year ninth in the league in ERA (3.72).
