Al Kaline's 27 home runs, 101 RBI, and .312 batting average (9th best in MLB, .889 OPS 8th) finished second in American League MVP voting. "Stormin' Norman" Cash hit 26 round-trippers and drove in 79 runs. Slugger "Rocky" Colavito added 22 homers and 91 RBI. The Tigers were second in the league in home runs and batting average. The pitching staff listed three double-digit winners: Phil Regan (15), Hank Aguirre (14), and Jim Bunning (12). Dennis Dale McLain, still in his teens, was picked up on waivers from the White Sox after he was let go as a first-year player. McLain made his first big league appearance September 21st, pitching a complete game victory against the White Sox. He struck out eight and allowed one earned run. To top it all off, Denny hit a solo fifth-inning homer. He won another game the last day of the season over Baltimore...A ten-game losing streak in June exiled the ballclub to ninth place until 22 wins in 30 August contests lifted them to fifth...Charlie Dressen replaced Bob Scheffing as manager, June 17th. The Tigers won 55 games for Dressen.
